

QMS SUMMER READING 2020 - GRADE 8

As we enter the summer months, one of the best ways for students to remain engaged and to increase academic success in the fall, perhaps this year more than ever, is to participate in summer reading. This year we are asking that students read at least two books for summer reading. Students are not expected to complete an assignment during summer vacation, but they are encouraged to take notes on a book so that they can share the book with their peers when we return to school.

We are excited to offer an incentive for students to keep reading as well. Students and parents will be invited to fill out a Google form which will serve as a log for their summer reading. When we return in the fall, students who have read six books or more (or 1200 pages) will be invited to a summer reading celebration, at which time they will have the opportunity to win prizes of--what else?--books!

To log your summer reading, simply click on the link below. You can submit multiple books at one time or you can make separate submissions as you go.

While most books are available through online bookstores like Amazon and Barnes and Noble, we are working hard to find ways to keep QMS students reading, regardless of financial constraints. We have collaborated with the Mansfield Public Library to ensure that as many summer reading options as possible are available as eBooks. Even if students don't have a library card, they can access eBooks through the Sora App by logging in with their Mansfield Public Schools Google credentials. See the instructions below to begin accessing through Sora. The library also is planning to eventually have a process for curbside, no-contact pick up of physical books. Click here for updates.

Here's how to access titles from the library through Sora:

- 1 Install the Sora app from the Apple App Store or Google Play Store, or go to soraapp.com.
- 2 In Sora, enter your setup code: mansfieldma
- 3 Under your Profile, select Add a public library and enter Mansfield Public Library
- 4 When you are ready to borrow a title, sign in with School Google Credentials

Below you will find some recommended titles for incoming eighth graders. Feel free to choose books from this list or simply use it as a springboard to find other intriguing books.

❑ Chains by Laurie Halse Anderson

“As the Revolutionary War begins, thirteen-year-old Isabel wages her own fight...for freedom. Promised freedom upon the death of their owner, she and her sister, Ruth, in a cruel twist of fate become the property of a malicious New York City couple, the Locktons, who have no sympathy for the American Revolution and even less for Ruth and Isabel. When Isabel meets Curzon, a slave with ties to the Patriots, he encourages her to spy on her owners, who know details of British plans for invasion. She is reluctant at first, but when the unthinkable happens to Ruth, Isabel realizes her loyalty is available to the bidder who can provide her with freedom. From acclaimed author Laurie Halse Anderson comes this compelling, impeccably researched novel that shows the lengths we can go to cast off our chains, both physical and spiritual.” Amazon.com

❑ Rules of the Road by Joan Bauer

“Jenna has just turned 16 and gotten her drivers license. Her life should be full of excitement and hope for the future. Instead she has to deal with her low grades and an alcoholic father. She does have a job selling shoes after school, which is something she is really good at. She would rather see someone in a pair of quality shoes than the shabby things sold at bargain chain stores. When Mrs. Gladstone, the owner of the store asks Jenna to drive her across the country to visit her other stores will she get more than she bargained for? Along the way Jenna learns some old truths and meets new and old friends. Will this help Jenna in other parts of her life?” Reviewed by Linda K., North County Regional ; cmlibrary.org

❑ Warriors Don't Cry by Melba Pattillo Beals

“In 1957, Melba Pattillo turned sixteen. That was also the year she became a warrior on the front lines of a civil rights firestorm. Following the landmark 1954 Supreme Court ruling, Brown v. Board of Education, Melba was one of nine teenagers chosen to integrate Little Rock's Central High School. Throughout her harrowing ordeal, Melba was taunted by her schoolmates and their parents, threatened by a lynch mob's rope, attacked with lighted sticks of dynamite, and injured by acid sprayed in her eyes. But through it all, she acted with dignity and courage, and refused to back down. This is her remarkable story.” Amazon.com

❑ The Contender by Robert Lipsyte

“Before you can be a champion, you have to be a contender. Alfred Brooks is scared. He's a highschool dropout and his grocery store job is leading nowhere. His best friend is sinking further and further into drug addiction. Some street kids are after him for something he didn't even do. So Alfred begins going to Donatelli's Gym, a boxing club in Harlem that has trained champions. There he learns it's the effort, not the win, that makes the man -- that last desperate struggle to get back on your feet when you thought you were down for the count.” Amazon.com

❑ Little Women by Louisa May Alcott

“Grown-up Meg, tomboyish Jo, timid Beth, and precocious Amy. The four March sisters couldn't be more different. But with their father away at war, and their mother working to support the family, they have to rely on one another. Whether they're putting on a play, forming a secret society, or celebrating Christmas, there's one thing they can't help wondering: Will Father return home safely?” Amazon.com

❑ Moves Make the Man by Bruce Brooks

“Reverse spin, triple pump, reverse dribble, stutter step with twist to the left, stutter into jumper, blind pass. These are me. The moves make the man. The moves make me. Jerome Foxworthy -- the Jayfox to his friends -- likes to think he can handle anything. He handled growing up without a father. He handled being the first black kid in school. And he sure can handle a basketball. Then Jerome meets Bix Rivers -- mysterious and moody, but a great athlete. So Jerome decides to teach Bix his game. He can tell that Bix has the talent. All he's got to do is learn the right moves....” Amazon.com

❑ All-American Girl by Meg Cabot

“15-year-old Samantha Madison becomes everybody's All-American Girl (HarperCollins, 2002) when she thwarts an attempt on the life of the president. This entry in Meg Cabot's Princess Diaries series focuses on Sam's hopeless crush on her sister's boyfriend, and her growing friendship with the president's son. There's lots of humor as she sorts out her relationships with her popular older sister and brilliant younger sister. There's also changing expectations from classmates who now view Sam as a celebrity. Fortunately, Sam's determination combined with some good advice from a new art teacher lead to a predictable happy ending.”
Barbara Wysocki, Cora J. Belden Library, Rocky Hill, CT

❑ The Glory Field by Walter Dean Myers

“‘Those shackles didn't rob us of being black, son, they robbed us of being human.’ This is the story of one family. A family whose history saw its first ancestor captured, shackled, and brought to this country from Africa. A family who can still see remnants of the shackles that held some of its members captive -- even today. It is a story of pride, determination, struggle, and love. And of the piece of the land that holds them together throughout it all. Amazon.com

❑ The Nazi Hunters by Neal Bascomb

“In 1945, at the end of World War II, Adolf Eichmann, the head of operations for the Nazis' Final Solution, walked into the mountains of Germany and vanished from view. Sixteen years later, an elite team of spies captured him at a bus stop in Argentina and smuggled him to Israel, resulting in one of the century's most important trials -- one that cemented the Holocaust in the public imagination.” Amazon.com

❑ Refugee by Alan Gratz

“JOSEF is a Jewish boy living in 1930s Nazi Germany. With the threat of concentration camps looming, he and his family board a ship bound for the other side of the world . . . ISABEL is a Cuban girl in 1994. With riots and unrest plaguing her country, she and her family set out on a raft, hoping to find safety in America . . . MAHMOUD is a Syrian boy in 2015. With his homeland torn apart by violence and destruction, he and his family begin a long trek toward Europe . . . All three kids go on harrowing journeys in search of refuge. All will face unimaginable dangers -- from drownings to bombings to betrayals. But there is always the hope of tomorrow. And although Josef, Isabel, and Mahmoud are separated by continents and decades, shocking connections will tie their stories together in the end.” Amazon.com

❑ Teen Ref: A Good No Call by Philip Struzzi (fiction) How can you be a football genius if you don't know the rules of the game? Fifteen-year-old Drew Hennings's dream of playing quarterback for his local high school team and playing football in the Ivy League ended when he got a serious concussion. Drew can't play football anymore, but he loves the game too much to walk away. With a close family friend and football official, Jace, as his mentor, Drew decides to transform himself into the first teenage football referee that Boston's South Shore has ever seen. Can he transfer his leadership skills to refereeing and make the right call even when it's unpopular? Will he be good enough to earn a place on the crew of a youth football playoff game?
