Book 1 in the Field Party Series, Romance

Give a summary without spoilers!

Maggie Carleton's life completely changed when her father killed her mother. After the incident she went completely silent and hasn't talked to anyone since. Then she meets West who is carrying the weight of his dad's health issues. They immediately feel a connection and Maggie finally feels comforted and loved by someone.

What drew you to this book?

I was drawn to this book because of the complex characters. They all have very interesting and unique backgrounds and personalities. The book was memorable because of the characters' strong personalities and emotions.

Did it remind you of something that you've previously read?

This book reminded me of another book that I read called Catching Jordan. Both of the books had high school football as a main component in the story and a little bit of romance. They also both had high schoolers trying to figure out who they are.

To whom would you recommend this book?

I would recommend this book to any high schooler that likes a book with a little bit of romance as well as some football incorporated into the story. This book is also very emotional so it would be great for someone who likes books that have a lot of feelings in them.

Overall, did you like it and would you recommend it to others?

Yes I really enjoyed this book and I would definitely recommend it to others. There were very developed characters and a great plot line. This book had the perfect amount of romance to make it cute but it was also very deep with lots of emotions.

Anything else that you would like to add to this review? What made you choose it? Did you like the cover? Was it recommended to you? Did you find it at the library?

I chose this book because the cover and title were very intriguing. Then I read the summary and it really made me want to read the book. I found it on the library's website.
